

Pavonia lasiopetala — Texas Rock Rose

Hardiness Zones:

USDA Zone 8 (10 °F) to

USDA Zone 9 (20 °F)

Height:

Grows 15" tall and 24" wide. Space 3' apart.

Exposure:

Plant in Full Sun to Partial Sun.

Bloom Time:

Blooms from Summer until Fall.

Water Requirements:

Water once per week

until established.

Does best in a well-drained soil.

★ Features: ★

Pavonia lasiopetala is a Texas Native that is extremely drought tolerant, although it does not mind a little water now and then. Texas Rock Rose can be seen growing native in the Edwards Plateau, Rio Grande Plains, and the Trans Pecos areas of Texas. The most eye-catching feature of this plant is the Hibiscus-like pink to rose colored flowers.